today on present and prospective condi tions surrounding the wheat market.

"Under favorable conditions," said Mr. Patten, "the United States will raise 1,000,000,000 bushels of wheat. It is unnecessary to adhere strictly to the government report on acreage seeded to win-ter wheat in the United States to forecast another bumper wheat crop, as i will be found smaller than the real facts will show at the close of the season.

"From the advices received the crop has wintered well and the promise is now most excellent. According to private re-ports there will be a great many advices eccived of damage to winter wheat from insects, B. W. Snow, whom I consider the best authority in the world on crop prospects, says it will take particularly unfavorable weather for insect develop-ment to prevent more or less damage. English in Buying.

War News the Pivot.

The wheat market will continue pivot on the news from abroad, coupled with the export takings of that grain in nil positions, as well as the fact as to whether farmers and country elevator owners will allow the grain to slip or prices. It is surprising to many in the trade because of the strength of corn in the face of the large supplies held not only in Chicago, but in the visible supply and the fact that them is proximately $100,000.

Curley, as will be noticed, didn't make the direct statement that the receipts were $110,000. He merely said "We are saying." His "we are saying" statement has been disputed by three persons who were on the "inside." Dick Klegin, director general of the affair, said on the day after the fight: "The receipts will not reach $70,000."

On the night following the fight Tom lones, manager for Jess Willard, said: "I don't know what the receipts are exactly, but I understand they are somewhere around $60,000. I make that statenent because I know that Willard's share of the recipts will be around $15,000 and he was to get 25 per cent of the gross receipts, including money taken in at the gate and money received for conces-

Englishmen Will Be Over for Big

Tourneys.

New York, April 18.—Word comes from England that Edward Ray, British open champion in 1913, will accompany Harry Various when the latter sails for this country. Ray, who came with Vardon in 1913, made many friends in this country, and the gigantic Englishman's play at Brookline, where he tied with Vardon and Francis Oulmet for the national open championship never will be forgotten by followers of American golf.

With the announcement of Ray's visit comes word to the effect that James Braid, fire-time winner of the British open title, and one of the great triumrirate, is not likely to visit these shores, although the statement that he is not coming is not made positively. It is said, however, that George Duncan, who was here in 1911, is thinking of coming over again, although he may not ratch this country as carry as Vardon and Ray do.

Nothing is said of the intentions of J. H. Taylor, but even if he and Braid do not come the presence of Vardon, Ray and Duncan will make the national open championship at Baltuerol in June one of the most notable tourneys in the history of American golf.
